Ohio's 1957 Traffic Toll Climbs over Previous Total

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The total population of New London in Huron County was wiped out on Ohio highways last year.

So was the population of Indian Hill in Hamilton County, or the entire student body at Oberlin College, or Ohio Wesleyan.

Not literally, of course. No great destruction descended on either city or campus.

But the state highway safety director, Gordon Jeffery, says population figures match almost precisely the death toll from traffic accidents on Ohio Highways during 1957.

A report issued today shows 2,044 traffic deaths last year, 1 per cent more than the 2,023 reported in 1956.

The total number of accidents reported was down 2 per cent last year—154,544 against 157,159 in 1956. But reported injuries rose 1 per cent from 78,698 in 1956 to 79,385 last year.

Deaths, injuries, and destruction of property last year caused economic loss of about 250 million dollars in Ohio last year, the National Safety Council estimated.

Some other statistics covered in the report:

Traffic accidents in big cities claimed the most lives last year. Deaths rose from 373 in 1956 to 415 last year in cities of more than 50,000 population.

The same pattern held true in heavily populated counties. In Cuyahoga County last year, the death toll was 173; in Hamilton, 106; in Summit, 99; in Franklin, 98; in Lucas, 67; in Stark, 56 and in Mahoning, 52.

Compared with 1956, Cuyahoga County's death count dropped two, Hamilton's increased 16, Summit's increased seven, Franklin's increased six, Montgomery's increased one, Lucas' dropped six, Stark's dropped 15 and Mahoning's increased two.

Fatalities in rural areas fell one per cent from 1,435 in 1956 to 1,418 last year. Crashes on rural state highways caused 976 deaths; county and other rural roads, 312 deaths. Accidents in villages took 102 lives and Ohio Turnpike accidents 28.

A slight increase in pedestrian deaths was reported last year. The 1957 figure was 445, compared with 437 in 1956. Collisions with other auto accounted for 851 deaths last year against 835 in 1956.

By age, 613 persons in the 25-44 group were killed and another 26,583 were injured. In the 65-and-older group, 323 were killed and 3,725 injured, and in the teenage group, 193 persons between 15 and 19 were killed and 10,571 injured.

More people died on Saturday (294) than any other day and more deaths took place (129) between 7 p. m. and 8 p. m. than at any other hour.

Bakery, Teamster Unions

Slated To Merger Programs

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union and the Teamsters, both ousted from the AFL-CIO, are scheduled to lock up their mutual assistance pact even tighter today.

Each was booted out of the AFL-CIO on charges of corrupt leadership.

However, their two presidents—James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters and James G. Cross of the Bakery Workers—were scheduled to appear on the same speaking platform at a special convention of the Bakery Workers.

Both Hoffa and Cross have been particular objects of AFL-CIO fire.

Hoffa said only that he intended to discuss the mutual financial, economic and membership pact which his organization has with the Bakery Workers. Their pact of long standing was renewed and broadened last month.

The Bakery workers Union, which claims to represent slightly more than 100,000 members, opened its convention Monday amid tight "security" regulations.

Train Slowed In City to 15 Mph.

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP)—New York Central mainline trains crept through this city of 20,000 at 15 miles an hour today after City Council rebelled over the death of three teen-agers at a blind crossing.

Police Chief Leo Cramer said his force was ready to clock trains under a revived 40-year-old city ordinance when trains began slowing down Sunday evening.

Meanwhile, city officials ordered all-night blockades set up on two streets, including the Perry St. crossing, scene of the Saturday night crash. The crossing, with tall buildings blinding the approaches, has a watchman during the day, only bells at night.

Bryan Official Going on Trial

BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—A jury of eight women and four men begin hearing testimony today in the trial of former Williams County treasurer Garland A. Beck, 56. He faces two charges of embezzling county funds.

The shortage in office funds prior to Beck's resignation Sept. 25 totals $5,337.16.

In action Monday, Common Pleas Judge Harvey E. Hyman granted a motion by Prosecutor William H. Weaver for dismissal of an indictment charging Beck with the theft of a taxpayer's check for $103.92.

Beck was found innocent Feb. 21 of embezzlement charges involving sales tax fund shortages.

Thug Picks Wrong Man in Holdup

NEW YORK (AP)—A holdup man picked the wrong taxicab driver as a victim—an off-duty policeman driving a cab owned by a friend.

The robber, identified by police as Edmund J. Rowe, 27, was shot by the patrolman and is reported in a critical condition.

The policeman, Russell Cain, 39, picked up a passenger outside a tavern. The passenger pressed what turned out to be a toy gun against Cain's neck and demanded money.

Cain took $15 from a pocket and laid it on the seat beside him. As the holdup man reached for the money, Cain turned and fired two shots with his service revolver. One hit the robber.

Ike To Miss Pickup Trip To Arizona

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower isn't going to Phoenix, Ariz., to pick up Mrs. Eisenhower this weekend, but his personal plane will fly her back to Washington.

Eisenhower made a 3,000-mile detour, en route from a vacation at Thomasville, Ga., to Washington to deposit the First Lady at Phoenix a week ago Sunday. Mrs. Eisenhower is a nonpaying guest at the beauty and health resort of Mrs. Elizabeth Arden there.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, said he didn't know exactly when Mrs. Eisenhower will return to the White House.

The President, however, has no plans to fly to Phoenix to get her—and perhaps get in a weekend of golf. Hagerty said the presidential plane, Columbine III, is on the way to Ontario, Calif., for one of its periodic checkups by experts of the Lockheed Co. which made it. Checks are made about every six months, Hagerty said, and this one will be on the plane's instrumentation and should take about a week.

On the way back to the capital, he said, it will pick up the First

Spaceman To Eat Food, Can and All

LOS ANGELES (AP)—After the spaceman has eaten his canned rations during his rocket flight to the moon, he'll probably turn around and eat the can too.

Food and other supplies packed for space travel because of the weight problem probably will be contained in vitamin-loaded chemical films instead of metal, says Albert Olevitch of the Air Materials Laboratory, Wright Air Development Center, Ohio. Films now are used today on wiener, he pointed out to members of the Society of Industrial Packaging and Materials Handling Engineers.

Ohio's 1957 Traffic Toll Climbs over Previous Total

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The total population of New London in Huron County was wiped out on Ohio highways last year.

So was the population of Indian Hill in Hamilton County, or the entire student body at Oberlin College, or Ohio Wesleyan.

Not literally, of course. No great destruction descended on either city or campus.

But the state highway safety director, Gordon Jeffery, says population figures match almost precisely the death toll from traffic accidents on Ohio Highways during 1957.

A report issued today shows 2,044 traffic deaths last year, 1 per cent more than the 2,023 reported in 1956.

The total number of accidents was down 2 per cent last year—154,544 against 157,159 in 1956. But reported injuries rose 1 per cent from 78,696 in 1956 to 79,385 last year.

Deaths, injuries, and destruction of property last year caused economic loss of about 250 million dollars in Ohio last year, the National Safety Council estimated.

Some other statistics covered in the report:

Traffic accidents in big cities claimed the most lives last year. Deaths rose from 373 in 1956 to 415 last year in cities of more than 50,000 population.

The same pattern held true in heavily populated counties. In Cuyahoga County last year, the death toll was 173; in Hamilton, 106; in Summit, 99; in Franklin, 98; in Lucas, 67; in Stark, 56 and in Mahoning, 52.

Compared with 1956, Cuyahoga County's death count dropped two, Hamilton's increased 16, Summit's increased seven, Franklin's increased six, Montgomery's increased one, Lucas' dropped six, Stark's dropped 15 and Mahoning's increased two.

Fatalities in rural areas fell one per cent from 1,435 in 1956 to 1,418 last year. Crashes on rural state highways caused 976 deaths; county and other rural roads, 312 deaths. Accidents in villages took 102 lives and Ohio Turnpike accidents 28.

A slight increase in pedestrian deaths was reported last year. The 1957 figure was 445, compared with 437 in 1956. Collisions with other autos accounted for 851 deaths last year against 835 in 1956.

By age, 613 persons in the 25-44 group were killed and another 26,583 were injured. In the 65-and-older group, 323 were killed and 3,725 injured, and in the teenage group, 193 persons between 15 and 19 were killed and 10,571 injured.

More people died on Saturday (294) than any other day and more deaths took place (129) between 7 p. m. and 8 p. m. than at any other hour.

Congress Divided On Funds Division

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some House leaders of both parties are split over a proposal that would restrict annual congressional appropriations to actual amounts that government agencies expect to spend during a given year.

Supporting this proposal for budgetary reform are House Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts and many Republicans and Democrats.

Opposed are House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) and most of the 50-man House Appropriations Committee, including Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) and Rep. Raber of New York, its senior Republican.

A House battle looms either Wednesday or Thursday on the bill, which is similar to a measure the Senate passed last year.

Alex White of Buffalo, N. Y., said he would be a candidate in opposition to Cross.

A convention decision, however, delayed election of officers until after action on resolutions and proposed amendments so it appeared unlikely the election would take place before Wednesday.

Many of the proposed resolutions cover the method of election of officers.

A convention banquet and dance is scheduled for tonight.

The 66-page Executive Board's report of the Bakery Workers' troubles included a statement that "Meany was interested only in breaking our union and its officers."

Its conclusion declared: "We refuse to bow down to the self-styled 'saviors of the American labor movement' who attempted to break over our union in a campaign of smears and false accusations."

The board also declared it was following the organization's constitution when it refused to bar Cross from seeking re-election and when it refused to reinstate Sims as had been demanded by the AFL-CIO.

In action Monday, Common Pleas Judge Harvey E. Hyman granted a motion by Prosecutor William H. Weaver for dismissal of an indictment charging Beck with the theft of a taxpayer's check for $103.92.

Beck was found innocent Feb. 21 of embezzlement charges involving sales tax fund shortages.

Train Slowed In City to 15 Mph.

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP)—New York Central mainline trains crept through this city of 20,000 at 15 miles an hour today after City Council rebelled over the death of three teen-agers at a blind crossing.

Police Chief Leo Cramer said his force was ready to clock trains under a revived 40-year-old city ordinance when trains began slowing down Sunday evening.

Meanwhile, city officials ordered all-night blockades set up on two streets, including the Perry St. crossing, scene of the Saturday night crash. The crossing, with tall buildings blinding the approaches, has a watchman during the day, only bells at night.

Bryan Official Going on Trial

BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—A jury of eight women and four men begin hearing testimony today in the trial of former Williams County treasurer Garland A. Beck, 56. He faces two charges of embezzling county funds.

The shortage in office funds prior to Beck's resignation Sept. 25 totals $5,337.16.

Thug Picks Wrong Man in Holdup

NEW YORK (AP)—A holdup man picked the wrong taxicab driver as a victim—an off-duty policeman driving a cab owned by a friend.

The robber, identified by police as Edmund J. Rowe, 27, was shot by the patrolman and is reported in a critical condition.

The policeman, Russell Cain, 39, picked up a passenger outside a tavern. The passenger pressed what turned out to be a toy gun against Cain's neck and demanded money.

Cain took $15 from a pocket and laid it on the seat beside him. As the holdup man reached for the money, Cain turned and fired two shots with his service revolver. One hit the robber.

Debt Ceiling Is No Stopper

Congressional and presidential approval of a $5 billion increase in the national debt to a new $280 billion ceiling is supposed to be temporary, in effect only until June 30, 1959. But most observers are convinced that before long the debt ceiling will go even higher.

What is the significance of the debt ceiling? Does it discourage spending, or is it only a symbol? In economic fact the ceiling is more effect than cause. Through the years, as the spending level has increased, the debt limit has been more a cork floating on top of the spending, instead of a stopper.

But the limit has not been utterly useless. It has been a symbol around which such opponents of unchecked spending as Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia have been able to rally. Without this limit, there would be no psychological barrier to a spending philosophy of "the more the merrier."

An increase in the national debt inevitably makes inflation more difficult to check. And adding $5 billion to the present national debt will boost the government's annual interest requirements by $125,000,000 a year. Interest already is costing American taxpayers $7 billion a year.

Economies in government operations — and there are assurances from the Hoover Commission that many are still possible — could have stemmed the need for this move to increase the national debt. Indeed, debt reductions might have been possible — debt reductions translated into lower interest charges to be included in annual budgets.

This is a method of budget cutting that could be reflected in every man's federal tax bill.

Airlines Blue, They're in Red

At the same time that the Civil Aeronautics Board granted the airlines a 6.6 per cent fare increase, it began a study of the real needs of these carriers. The study will continue most of this year.

This was like a slap in the face to the airlines. They had asked for increases ranging up to 20 per cent. They had net profits of 7 per cent in 1952. Last year the net was only 1.57 per cent. With the fare increase the lines expect to net 2.61 per cent this year. They contend this is inadequate to keep pace with rising costs as they enter the jet age.

The plane carriers were getting only 1.9 per cent more than in 1938 for passenger fares. During this period bus and rail fares have increased 37 to 50 per cent. Airlines bought passenger planes 20 years ago for $125,000. Now jets cost from $5 million to $6 million. The airlines have ordered jet fleets costing $2 billion.

Despite sizable operational economies, the airlines are in an earnings fix. The government certainly has the obligation to appraise air fares carefully. If income of the carriers is inadequate, safety and profit will both suffer.

Congress Probes Vital to All

Dr. Bernard Schwartz's name and photograph were hurled at the American people without introduction. To some, he appeared to be a bull in the china shop, upsetting the even course of Congressional affairs, but what seemed much worse, disclosing the tendency of public officials and Washington lawyers and politicians to find corrupt means to do their business. He really gave the boys a scare.

However, Dr. Schwartz is not only a learned but an obstinate personality, and although his Congressional committee dismissed him without much ado, he managed, by dramatic gestures, to keep his cause before the public and to force the House committee that fired him to continue the investigation, with him as a sworn witness. The committee immediately drew pay dirt.

To read a man's book is to know much about him. Dr. Schwartz has written a book, "The Supreme Court," published by The Ronald Press Company, in which he discusses the role of the investigative committees of Congress. Dr. Schwartz wrote this before some of the late 1957 decisions of the Supreme Court which have, in some measure, damaged the effective weapons of both the Congressional investigative committee and the FBI.

Dr. Schwartz's statement of the case is interesting and important in view of his experience with his committee. In his book, he says:

"This is not to deny the importance of the Congressional power of investigation; the indispensable informing function of Congress, in the words of a 1953 Supreme Court opinion, is not to be minimized. Certainly the power of inquiry is an essential auxiliary to the legislative functions of the Congress. As the Court itself recognized in the leading case upholding Congressional investigatory authority (its 1927 decision in McGraw v. Daugherty), 'A legislative body cannot legislate wisely or effectively in the absence of information respecting the conditions which the legislation is intended to affect or change; and where the legislative body does not itself possess the requisite information—which not infrequently is true—recourse must be had to others who do possess it.'

It is by use of its investigatory power that the Congress obtains the information needed to enable it properly to perform its functions. It is, indeed, not too much to say that, under contemporary conditions, investigating committees have become, in large part, the eyes and ears of the Congress."

Literally, Congress could not do its job without Dr. Schwartz.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SARAH TRUAX tells of a Seattle kindergarten teacher who boarded a bus and discovered that the man in the seat next to her looked very familiar. She gave him a tentative smile, but he glared coldly at her. Flustered, she explained, "Oh, excuse me, please. I thought you were the father of two of my children . . ."

The man got off at the next corner.

A Medical Center doctor tells about a fashionable woman patient who had just pulled through a very serious operation but was still unconscious. Two dear friends stood at her bedside. Said one of them, "She seems to have taken this all very well, considering her age. She's 58, you know." The patient, eyes still closed, whispered firmly, "57." An hour later she was neatly propped up watching television.

Marion Miller defines intuition as "that uncanny second sense which tells a woman she is absolutely right — whether she is or not."

Hay Fever Season Begins

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

The ragweed season still is some five months away, yet this is hay fever weather for a good many Americans.

Spring hay fever begins in March and continues until about mid-June. It's caused by pollens from trees such as hickory and maple.

Only about 10 per cent of the nation's hay fever victims are troubled by these tree pollens. But this is a sizable number, since an estimated two and one-half per cent of our entire population is liable to hay fever attacks by inhalation of pollen.

Fall hay fever—the one which causes the most sneezing and wheezing—begins about August 15 and continues until the first frost kills ragweed growth and eliminates the offending pollen.

There is still another type of hay fever—the summer type.

Often called rose fever, this variety prevails from about May 15 to July 15. It is caused by pollen from grasses. Timothy, redtop and bluegrass are the worst offenders.

About 30 per cent of our hay fever victims have this summer type allergy.

One surprising thing about spring hay fever, the kind we are most concerned with at the moment, is that the blossoms of fruit trees are not an important factor.

Why do some persons develop hay fever and not others? That's a big question. Heredity seems to play a major role. But no matter what the cause, you should seek medical help if you have hay fever of any sort.

Hay fever itself can be temporarily disabling. Each year, millions of work days are lost by persons incapacitated by this allergy.

An even greater danger, however, is that hay fever may develop into asthma, a really serious ailment. In fact, it is estimated that about one-third of the hay fever victims would develop asthma if their conditions were not treated.

Hay fever itself can be temporarily disabling. Each year, millions of work days are lost by persons incapacitated by this allergy.

An even greater danger, however, is that hay fever may develop into asthma, a really serious ailment. In fact, it is estimated that about one-third of the hay fever victims would develop asthma if their conditions were not treated.

If Eisenhower becomes unable to carry out his duties he will—if still able to do that much—tell Nixon to act as president until he recovers. If Eisenhower can't tell Nixon what to do, Nixon himself will decide whether to act as president.

The White House statement further said if Eisenhower recovers he—not Nixon—will decide when his disability is ended and he can resume his job.

Note: This statement at no place says Nixon will actually become president, it simply says ver should give a thought to a vacation along about now.

Men's Teeth Outlive Women's

It's possible some decisions made by Nixon as acting president might be challenged in the courts. But Eisenhower appears to have decided to meet one problem at a time, the biggest one first.

In this nuclear age it might be fatal for the country if, in a moment of emergency, a stricken president was unable to function and no arrangements had been made for the vice president to act for him.

The White House statement made it clear Eisenhower and Nixon were making this arrangement for themselves only and were not attempting to lay down the same rule for future presidents and vice presidents.

From the beginning the Constitution has been unclear on how a vice president would act for a disabled president. It says only that if a president can't do his job, his "powers and duties . . . devolve" on the vice president.

Dividend List Now Suffering Casualties

Profit Margin Squeeze Becoming Real Pain; February Cuts Noted

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Mounting dividend casualty lists fret stock market habitués today as well as the stockholders affected. And they turn the current profit margin squeeze from a statistic to a real pain.

So far this year 126 companies have either cut or omitted dividend payments, almost twice the number (65) that increased them. This is a full reversal of the trend a year ago.

Almost two thirds of the 1958 cuts, omissions and deferments came in February. Stock market observers theorize that the January cuts and omissions may have reflected the reduced earnings of many firms in 1957 and that the February setbacks may have been shown still more the feeling of directors about earnings prospects ahead.

In both months most companies maintained their old dividend rates. But in many cases this was done in the face of declining earnings in the final months of 1957 and indications that the drop is continuing in the early months of 1958.

This means that those paying the old rates often are doing so by increasing sharply the percentage of net income after taxes to be paid to stockholders—that is, by reducing sharply the amount the companies retain for growth and operating expenses.

The Associated Press index of 60 stocks started the year at 154.7 and ended February at 159.2—or a gain for the two months of 4.5 but the picture for February alone wasn't that pleasant. Affected by other things, of course, than dividend cutting, the index which has ended January at 162.6 was down 3.4 when the shortest month ended.

Some feel the worst in dividend cutting may be over, just as they hold that the sharpest drop in business is past and the increasing squeeze on profits may slow down now.

Many brokers, believing that a higher percentage of dividend payments to earnings will be in effect most of the year, contend that total dividend payments should hold close to or equal the record 12½ billion dollars in 1957.

In that year the average payout was 60 per cent, compared with 57 per cent in 1956. These brokers contend that the payout could go above 60 per cent without strain on corporate finances.

Hearing Set for Collegians Who Tried to Derail Trains

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three Ohio University students charged with attempting to derail trains are scheduled to appear in Federal Court later this month.

They are John Earl Hamm III, James John Onder and George Baxter Hinckley. Hamm is from North Olmsted, Onder from Rocky River and Hinckley lives at Fairview, all in Cuyahoga County.

A federal grand jury has returned indictments against them. Hamm and Onder are accused of placing a lumber barricade on Baltimore & Ohio tracks at Athens Jan. 18. Federal Bureau of Investigation agents said the barricade was removed by other students before a St. Louis-to-Baltimore train passed.

Hinckley is accused of placing two concrete building blocks on the same track Jan. 23. Others who will be arraigned before Judge Mell G. Underwood include:

Swaim Released In Swindle Case

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Allen J. Swaim has been released on $25,000 bond from Mahoning County jail, where he was held on a charge of obtaining $44,000 under false pretenses.

With Swaim's release Monday,

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: This concerns your article, some time back, about the young matron baffled by her loss of interest in her marriage. You explain that her husband seems at fault, in denying her cooperative companionship; and that she unconsciously resents the unfair deal. You say that a mature view of marriage, with a clear understanding of a wife's rights and duties, is the long term remedy in her case. You prescribe certain reading, to help her attain this growth.

Your answer is good. But is it good enough to save her character and her marriage? If her husband considers housework a woman's work, then why shouldn't she consider wage earning a man's work, and give up her factory job whereby she helps support the household? And thus place upon him the responsibility and duty, as head of the family, to provide for his wife and children?

I am an old fashioned home-maker and believe the place of the wife and mother is in the home.

C. C.

Dear C. C.: I feel that every married woman who actually prefers to stay home, and be a full-time wife and mother, ought to be granted that choice, if humanly possible.

However, it takes all kinds to make a world. And not all wives want to give full time to home-making and related projects, in the so-called "woman's world," — although I think the majority do.

There are some matrons, as we know, who honestly feel that they can't abide what seems to them the monotony and treadmill grind of round-the-clock housekeeping. They regard as a form of captivity.

Perhaps they lack the emotional quietude and deep acceptance of femininity as the stabilizing principle in life, that help womankind (in the main) to thrive on the background role of domestic servitude.

Perhaps they also lack the vital stamina, and the experimental approach to craftsmanship, and the natural industry, that carry the born homemaker through her complex assignment, with a triumphant sense of accomplishment. We find her painting, gardening, dressmaking, refinishing furniture, helping the neighbors, entertaining hospitably — the list of her extra efforts is endless — in addition to coping competently with the daily cooking, cleaning, counseling, mending, etc.

The reluctant housewife is geared to a different pace. Rightly or wrongly, she urgently feels that getting away from the house, as part of the daily pattern, is an absolute must to keep herself from going to pieces—or to seed. Thus she may elect a casual job in the business world, that pays enough to cover the costs of hired household help, and a little over — to justify her wage-earning respite from domestic harness.

Such may be the case with the discouraged young matron to whom you offer a word of advice. She admits to doing factory work and helping financially at home. But she doesn't say that her husband expects such help or approves it. So maybe it is her own idea, and an escapist device; and thus perhaps she needs to be educated out of the mistake.

If so, my suggestion earlier given, should be sufficient to save her character and her marriage, if she acts on the prescription. Namely, to study Wingfield Hope's book "Life Together" (Sheed & Ward) to get a clear understanding of her rights and duties as wife and mother—so that her own behavior in the marriage will produce a chain reaction for the better.

Dr. John Schindler's book "Woman's Guide to Better Living" (Prentice-Hall) was mentioned as a possible lead in the same direction.

Highway Agency Is Sued by Pair

ASHLAND (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Gay L. Landfried have sued the Ohio Highway Department for $20,000 and "other equitable relief" because of alleged damage to their property in obtaining right-of-way for state Rt. 1, the north-south freeway.

The Landfrieds allege a fire on their 151-acre farm destroyed their home, Feb. 12. The fire was started through "carelessness and neglect," the suit alleges.

The suit alleges workers entered the farm property to clear timber for the right-of-way Feb. 8 without receiving "proper consent" from the Landfrieds.

Animal Fat Eyed As Cause of Man's Heart Disorders

CLEVELAND (AP) — A research group at Cleveland Clinic is trying to develop a more healthful American diet by substituting vegetable fat for animal fat.

The aim of the project, which is financed by a $65,000 grant from the United States Public Health Service, is to help evolve a way of life free of hazards of heart disease and hardening of the arteries.

Research has found that most victims of strokes due to thrombosis and heart attacks have accumulations of cholesterol and other fats in the blood vessels at the point of block.

Animal fats have been blamed for the clogging of the blood vessels of such individuals. Certain vegetable fats termed "unsaturated" tend to lower the amount of cholesterol in the blood.

a year of record growth

1957... a year of record growth

The Annual Report of Texas Eastern, just released, recounts many new records for the company... expansion of its facilities... increases in sales and revenues... and diversification of its operations.

Delivery and sale of natural gas to distributors for use in millions of homes and thousands of factories in Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states exceeded 548 billion cubic feet—greatest in the company's history—compared with 497 billion cubic feet in 1956.

Consolidated net income for the company and subsidiaries for 1957 amounted to $2.52 per share on 8,372,510 common shares, compared with $2.04 per share on the 7,218,100 common shares outstanding at the end of 1956.

Diversification keynoted the company's non-gas activities. In August, the company acquired La Gloria Oil and Gas Company as a wholly-owned subsidiary. La Gloria explores for and produces oil and gas, operates a large natural gas processing plant and one of the nation's most modern refineries. Texas Eastern completed the reconversion of the Little Big Inch pipeline as a common carrier of clean petroleum products, and this system, one of the nation's largest, is now in operation.

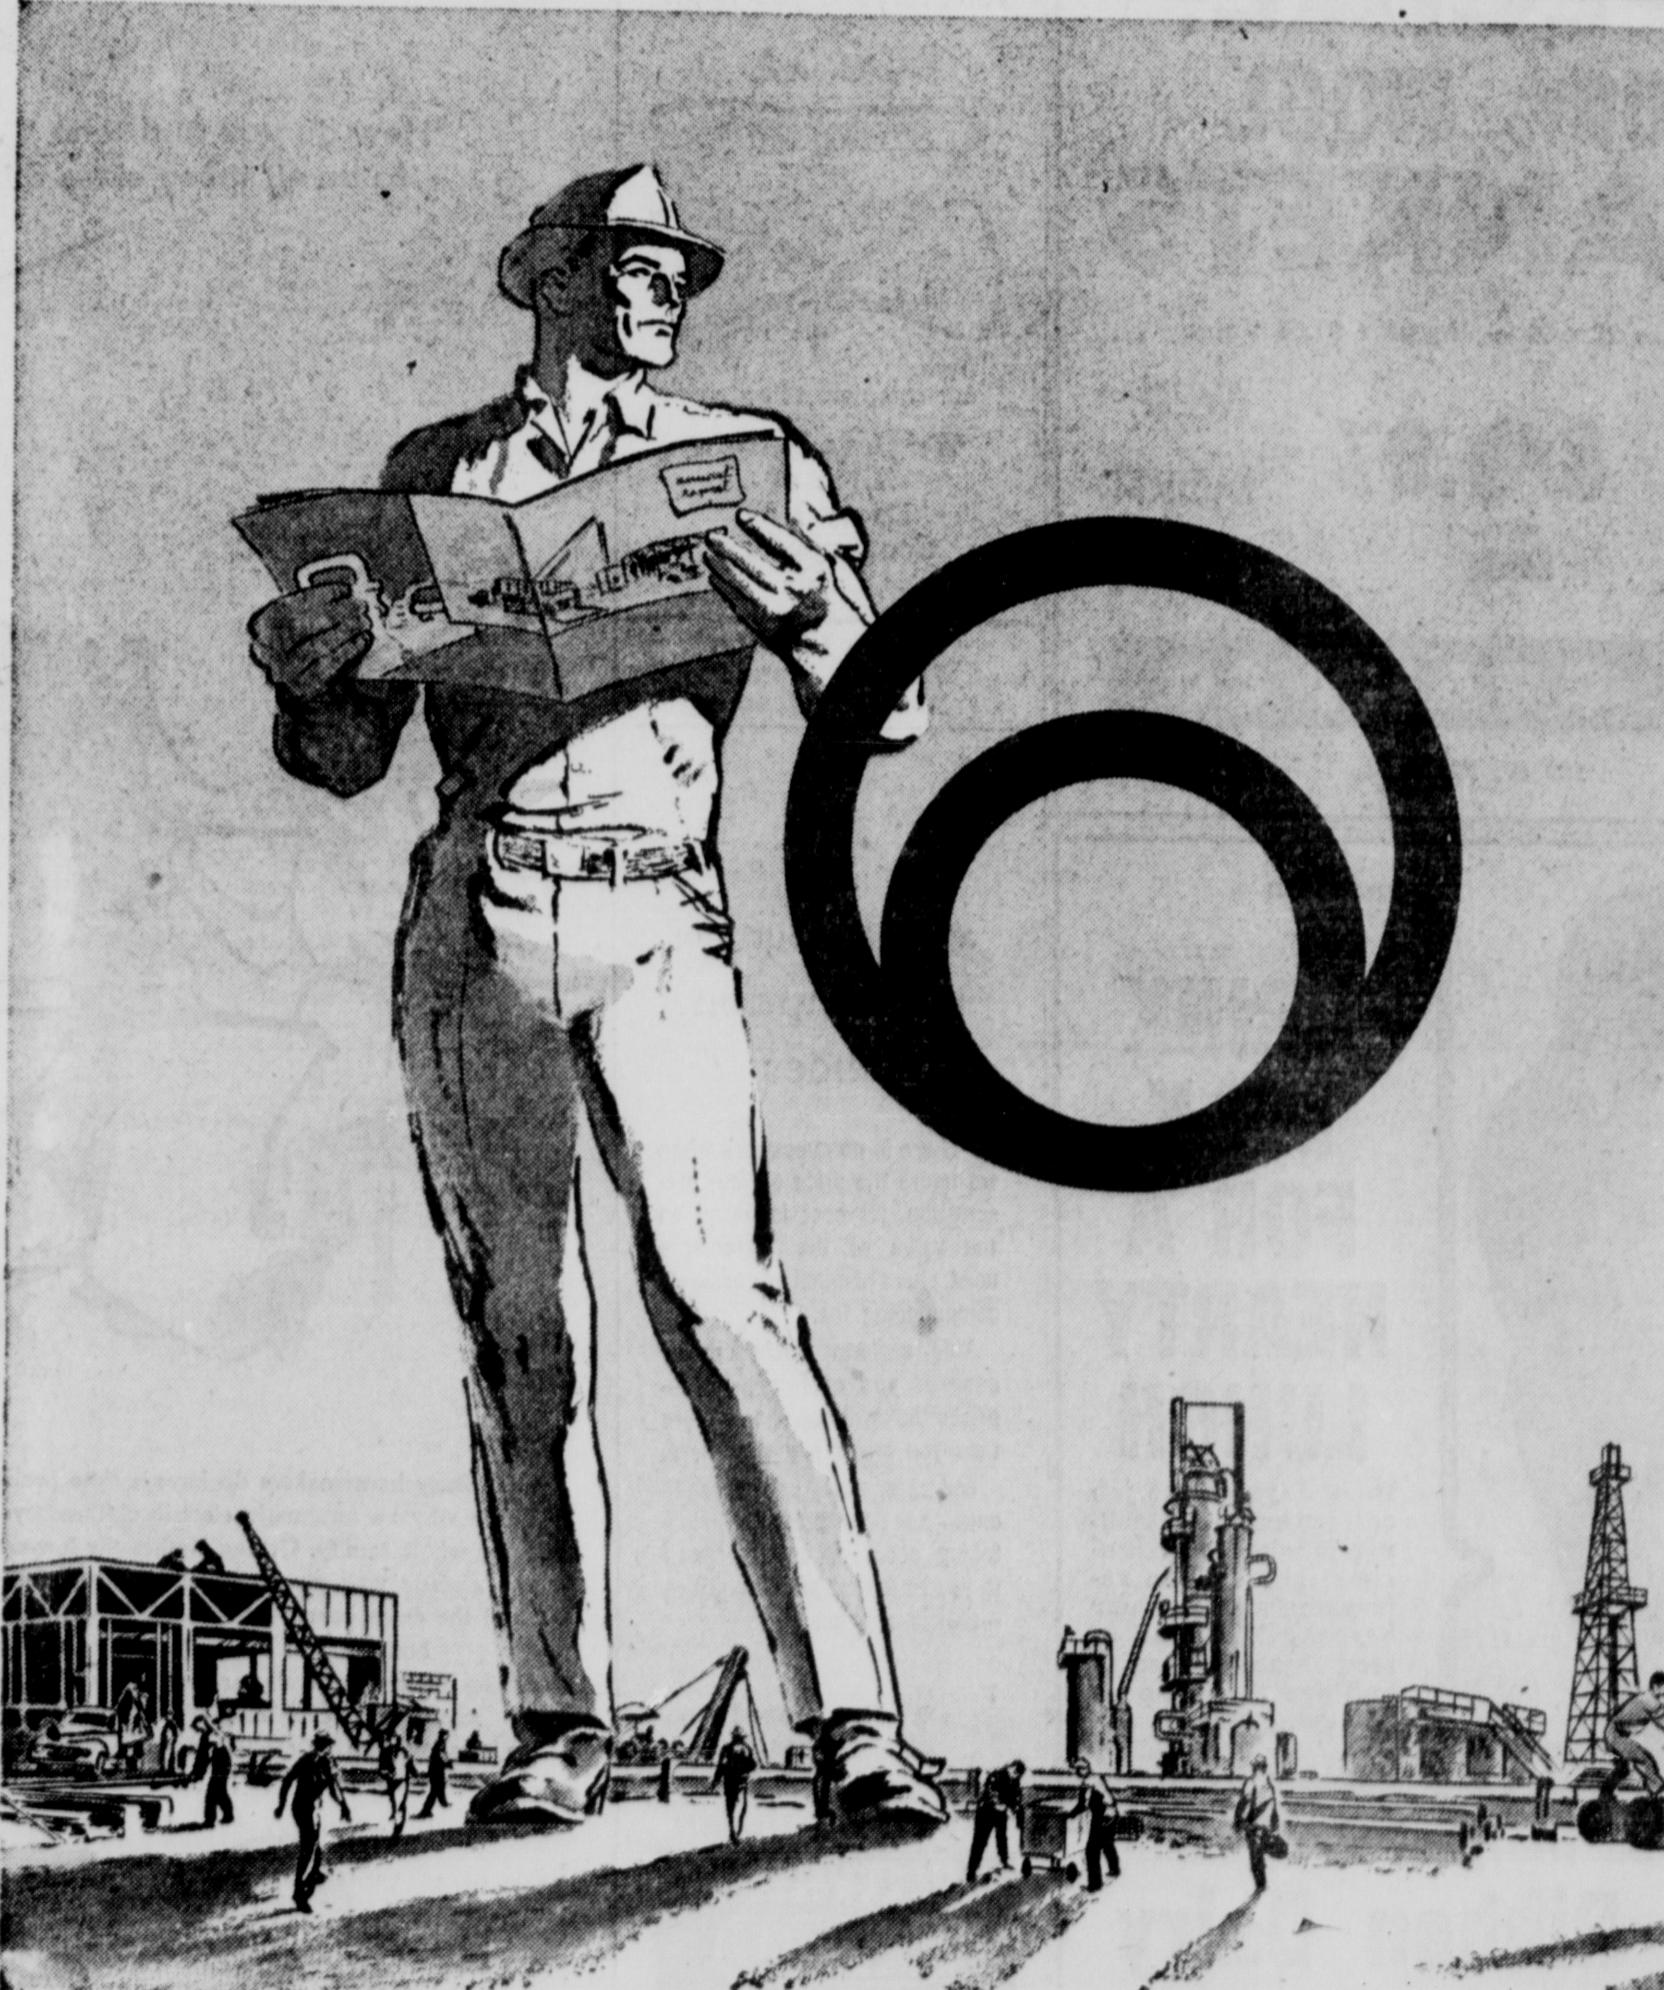

Natural gas reserves owned or controlled under contract were substantially increased during the year. At December 31, 1957, reserves were estimated by the company at 12,158,200,000 cubic feet, compared with 10,843,500,000 at the close of 1956. New sources of reserves available to Texas Eastern are being developed in Texas and Louisiana.

Production activities carried out by the company and its subsidiaries reached record levels. Total interest in gas production for 1957 amounted to 34,998,400,000 cubic feet, and in oil and products production to 3,091,727 barrels. Drilling and exploration activities were being carried on in fourteen states at year-end.

Thus, in 1957, Texas Eastern built solidly for the future... placing itself in position to serve the nation more effectively, and to assure a dependable and continuing supply of natural gas and petroleum products.

Shapely Starlet Enthused About New Sack Fashions

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Paris' new fashion look — the sack and the trapeze — found a champion today in the last person one would expect — an amply-endowed starlet.

So far Hollywood, where bosom is queen, has not adopted the look that tries to hide the fact that girls are girls. But blonde Juli Reding is all for it.

"I came to Hollywood two years ago from Branson, Mo." she declares, "and all I have done since is take drama lessons and pose for cheesecake photos. I couldn't get a part in a movie until the House of Dior made sack dresses.

"Every time I went on an interview at a studio, I always got the same answer: 'Honey, this is a serious role, not a comedy.' I'm not a comedy. You're just too much for the part."

She speaks the truth. Movie producers look upon the voluptuous girls only as comedienne, especially if they're blondes.

Academy records show that a girl with a 40-inch bosom or larger has never ever been nominated for an Oscar.

"I'm not a comedy type girl," Juli moans. "I study serious dramatics."

So far she has helped pay for her lessons with walk-on bits on the George Gobel and Steve Allen TV shows.

Juli wore a sack dress a few months ago.

"My agent called me in a restaurant and told me to be at Columbia Studios in 15 minutes. I didn't have time to change into a revealing dress so I wore my sack."

It was about her 50th movie interview — all without much success — but the casting director took one look at her and said: "Honey, the part's yours."

Since then her sack dress has gotten her roles in such pictures as "The Helen Morgan Story," "Darby's Rangers" and "The Deep Six."

Some New Paris Fashions Said Inspired by Sputnik

By NADEANE WALKER (AP Fashions Reporter)

PARIS (AP) — There'll always be a France, as far as fashion goes.

Paris dress designers have always been good at producing something new, but this season they have outdone themselves. Some of the new silhouettes are so out-of-this-world that they hint at outer space travel costumes. Maybe they were inspired by the Sputniks.

One American buyer complained, "The silhouettes make all the news this time; they haven't even bothered to use new materials."

But the buyers were wildly enthusiastic about the debut collection of young Yves Saint-Laurent. This 21-year-old heir to Christian Dior provided, with his blimp-like "Trapeze" line, a loud affirmative answer to those who asked, "Will French fashions still be French fashions without Dior?"

Leading colors of the season are: string beige, blue (from sky to navy), orange pinks, yellow, grey, and —surprisingly— a lot of black for after-dark. Chiffons, lace and organzas are equally popular for dressy-summery styles.

Leading question of the season: Are those shape sacks, or have they turned into something else? The big store buyers would like to have you think otherwise, but essentially they're still sacks, whether you call them chemises (as the buyers do), trapezes (Dior), spools (Heim), scythes (Cardin), tubes (Balmain and Chanel), baby dolls (Griff and Maggy Rouff) or the forward line (Desses).

That is, they're still sacks if you accept the definition of a sack as anything without a real waistline.

Only Lanvin brought out models which admit that women have middles in the middle.

It isn't a pretty-print season, as women might expect for spring.

The designers seem reluctant to do anything that might detract interest from the silhouette.

The season's hemline flirts with

Trotting Group Expected To Be Named in Lawsuit

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The United States Trotting Assn. (USTA), said to have a "stranglehold over harness racing," is expected to be named in a suit to be filed in Federal District Court here.

U.S. Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said the suit, to be filed by the federal government, will charge the USTA and its members with conspiring to restrain interstate commerce in violation of the Sherman Antitrust Act. USTA headquarters is in Columbus.

In New York, where the USTA is holding a meeting, the new association president, Walter Michael of Bucyrus, Ohio, said the USTA would fight the action, but added that he felt his group could settle the issue with the government.

"I sincerely believe all our difficulties can be ironed out and the USTA can keep enough powers to function for the benefit of its 14,000 members," Michael said.

"We plan to fight the case. Some of the complaints are unfounded. Others are justified. I think we can change our by-laws to meet government demands," he said.

Michael was elected president of the organization Monday. He is reported to have been backed by the Harness Tracks of America, a group of parimutuel tracks which have been threatening to withdraw from the USTA unless more concern is shown for their interests.

The government's complaint reported that, during the 1957 season, 15,000 horses and 4,000 drivers participated in harness racing for purses totaling more than 24 million dollars and that the parimutuel tracks handled over $15 million dollars in bets.

5 More Teams OK'd for NCAA

NEW YORK — Five more teams have qualified for the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s small college basketball tournament, and the last three berths in the 32-team field will be determined in playoffs tonight, the NCAA announced today.

South Dakota (16-5) enters the tournament, which winds up with the quartefinals, semifinals and finals at Evansville, Ind., March 12-14, as the champion of the North Central Conference. Knox (16-6) represents the Midwest Collegiate Conference, Akron (18-5) the Ohio Athletic Conference, and American U. (20-5) the Mason-Dixon loop. Northern Illinois was chosen today to fill the last remaining at-large berth.

Other officers elected were: Eugene Hayes, director of the famous Hambletonian race at Duquoin, Ill., chairman of the board; A. L. Putnam, Chippewa, Wis., vice chairman; Don R. Miller, Columbus, executive vice president; Edward Hackett, Columbus, secretary; Dale Bordner, Columbus, treasurer.

Under the "contract" plan a parimutuel track is not required to race under USTA rules but holds membership for the benefit of registering horses and records.

Browns Sign Tackle

CLEVELAND — The Cleveland Browns signed John Moore, 215-pound Baldwin-Wallace College tackle, as a free agent Monday. The 24-year-old senior is from Newark.

In the election he beat out Ernest Morris of Albany, N. Y., vice president of the Saratoga track.

Indiana, MSU To Meet for Big Ten Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Indiana and Michigan State, defending co-champions of the Big Ten basketball crown, will settle their two-year dispute at East Lansing Saturday.

At stake in a regionally televised finale will be the undisputed Western Conference title and an NCAA tournament berth.

Indiana, making a gallant comeback after losing six of its seven non-conference games, defeated Illinois, 96-86, at Champaign Monday night for its fourth straight Big Ten victory. The Hoosiers pulled into a tie with Michigan State for the conference lead with a 9-4 record.

Purdue defeated Iowa, 65-59, at Lafayette to assure itself of a second place tie with the losers of the Indiana-MSU game and Michigan escaped a possible tie for the cellar by whipping Wisconsin, 72-65, at Madison.

Archie Dees, the Big Ten scoring leader, pummeled in 33 points in leading Indiana to its seventh triumph in the last eight games. The Hoosier hotshot, with one more game to play, has amassed 546 points in 21 games for an average of 25.9.

George Kline of Minnesota, having finished his season, is second with 425 points in 21 games for a 20.2 average. Illinois' Don Ohl, with another game to go, is third with 420 points in 21 games for a 30.0 average.

The government's complaint reported that, during the 1957 season, 15,000 horses and 4,000 drivers participated in harness racing for purses totaling more than 24 million dollars and that the parimutuel tracks handled over $15 million dollars in bets.

Fullmer Lays Claim To Fight for Title

SALT LAKE CITY — Former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, 159, staked out a claim to a title fight or a "money" bout to day after gaining a unanimous decision over veteran Milo Savage, 160, Salt Lake City.

About the only thing Fullmer earned in the relatively dull 10-round bout Monday night was his purse of about $3,600. He never was able to land any effective combinations on Savage.

His manager, Mary Jensen said he would be angling for Fullmer to meet the winner of the Carmen Basilio-Sugar Ray Robinson title fight this month.

The new executive is president of the Grandview and Northfield Park tracks and chairman of the board of the Painesville race track. All are in the Cleveland area.

In the election he beat out Ernest Morris of Albany, N. Y., vice president of the Saratoga track.

Other officers elected were:

Eugene Hayes, director of the famous Hambletonian race at Duquoin, Ill., chairman of the board; A. L. Putnam, Chippewa, Wis., vice chairman; Don R. Miller, Columbus, executive vice president; Edward Hackett, Columbus, secretary; Dale Bordner, Columbus, treasurer.

Dayton Defense Due To Vie Against Cincy's Offense

CINCINNATI — Dayton and Cincinnati, two of the best known basketball enemies in this corner of Ohio, tonight renew an old rivalry with a new twist.

The twist is in the way they play this season: Dayton has proved a new genius for defense; Cincinnati has come up with a paralyzing offensive spree.

This traditional game, which may bust attendance records at Cincinnati Garden, is for many fans THE game of the season.

Reserved seat tickets have been sold out for a month now and Garden officials, who shrugged off hot pressure to televise the contest, now plan to sell 1,500 standing room tickets just before game time.

Both teams in this long-standing rivalry, playing their own brand of basketball, have stacked up impressive records.

Dayton, in its last game of the season, has made a 23-2 record and a mark as the nation's third best defensive crew by specializing in deliberate ball-handling, reciting teamwork and slow tactics.

Cincinnati, with another game to go and the Missouri Valley Conference title already clinched, has a 22-2 mark after a free-wheeling offensive season that brought a sophomore—Oscar Robertson—to prominence as the nation's current leading scorer.

Cincinnati is rated third in the national this week; Dayton is eighth.

Coach George Smith put his charges through a strong drill against slow-down tactics Monday.

Smith has scouted Dayton four times and said: "Only in the last game I saw, against Loyola, did they run."

He said he expects Dayton "to go only for the good shots while giving us a minimum of chances to shoot."

Dayton Coach Tom Blackburn has reportedly concocted a strong zone defense with emphasis on chasing Robertson.

Blackburn has another worry—

Jack McCarthy, 6-foot-6 senior center, suffered a back injury last Saturday and then came down with flu. He's a doubtful starter.

The rest of Dayton's first men are sparkplugs Don Lane, a main factor in the team's success; the big Bockhorn brothers—Arlen and Land Indians' veteran hurler.

"I guess I'm not ready to pitch to the hitters," admitted the Cleveland Indians' veteran hurler.

North America Icers Playing 'Too Rough'

OSLO (AP)—That constant rhubarb of international amateur ice hockey is in full swing again today, with Europeans claiming Canadians and Americans are too rough and the North Americans wondering what all the fuss is about.

Norwegians, accustomed to the no-contact European style of hockey, have roundly roared the Canadian and U.S. teams in their games in the world amateur championships under way here, especially when the well-thumped way was the opponent.

Monday, it was the Americans' turn and the partisan crowd of 3,500 let loose a chorus of boos throughout the U.S. team's 6-1 victory over Norway.

There was vigorous checking along the boards and twice players mixed it up with fists. One fan threw a bottle on the ice.

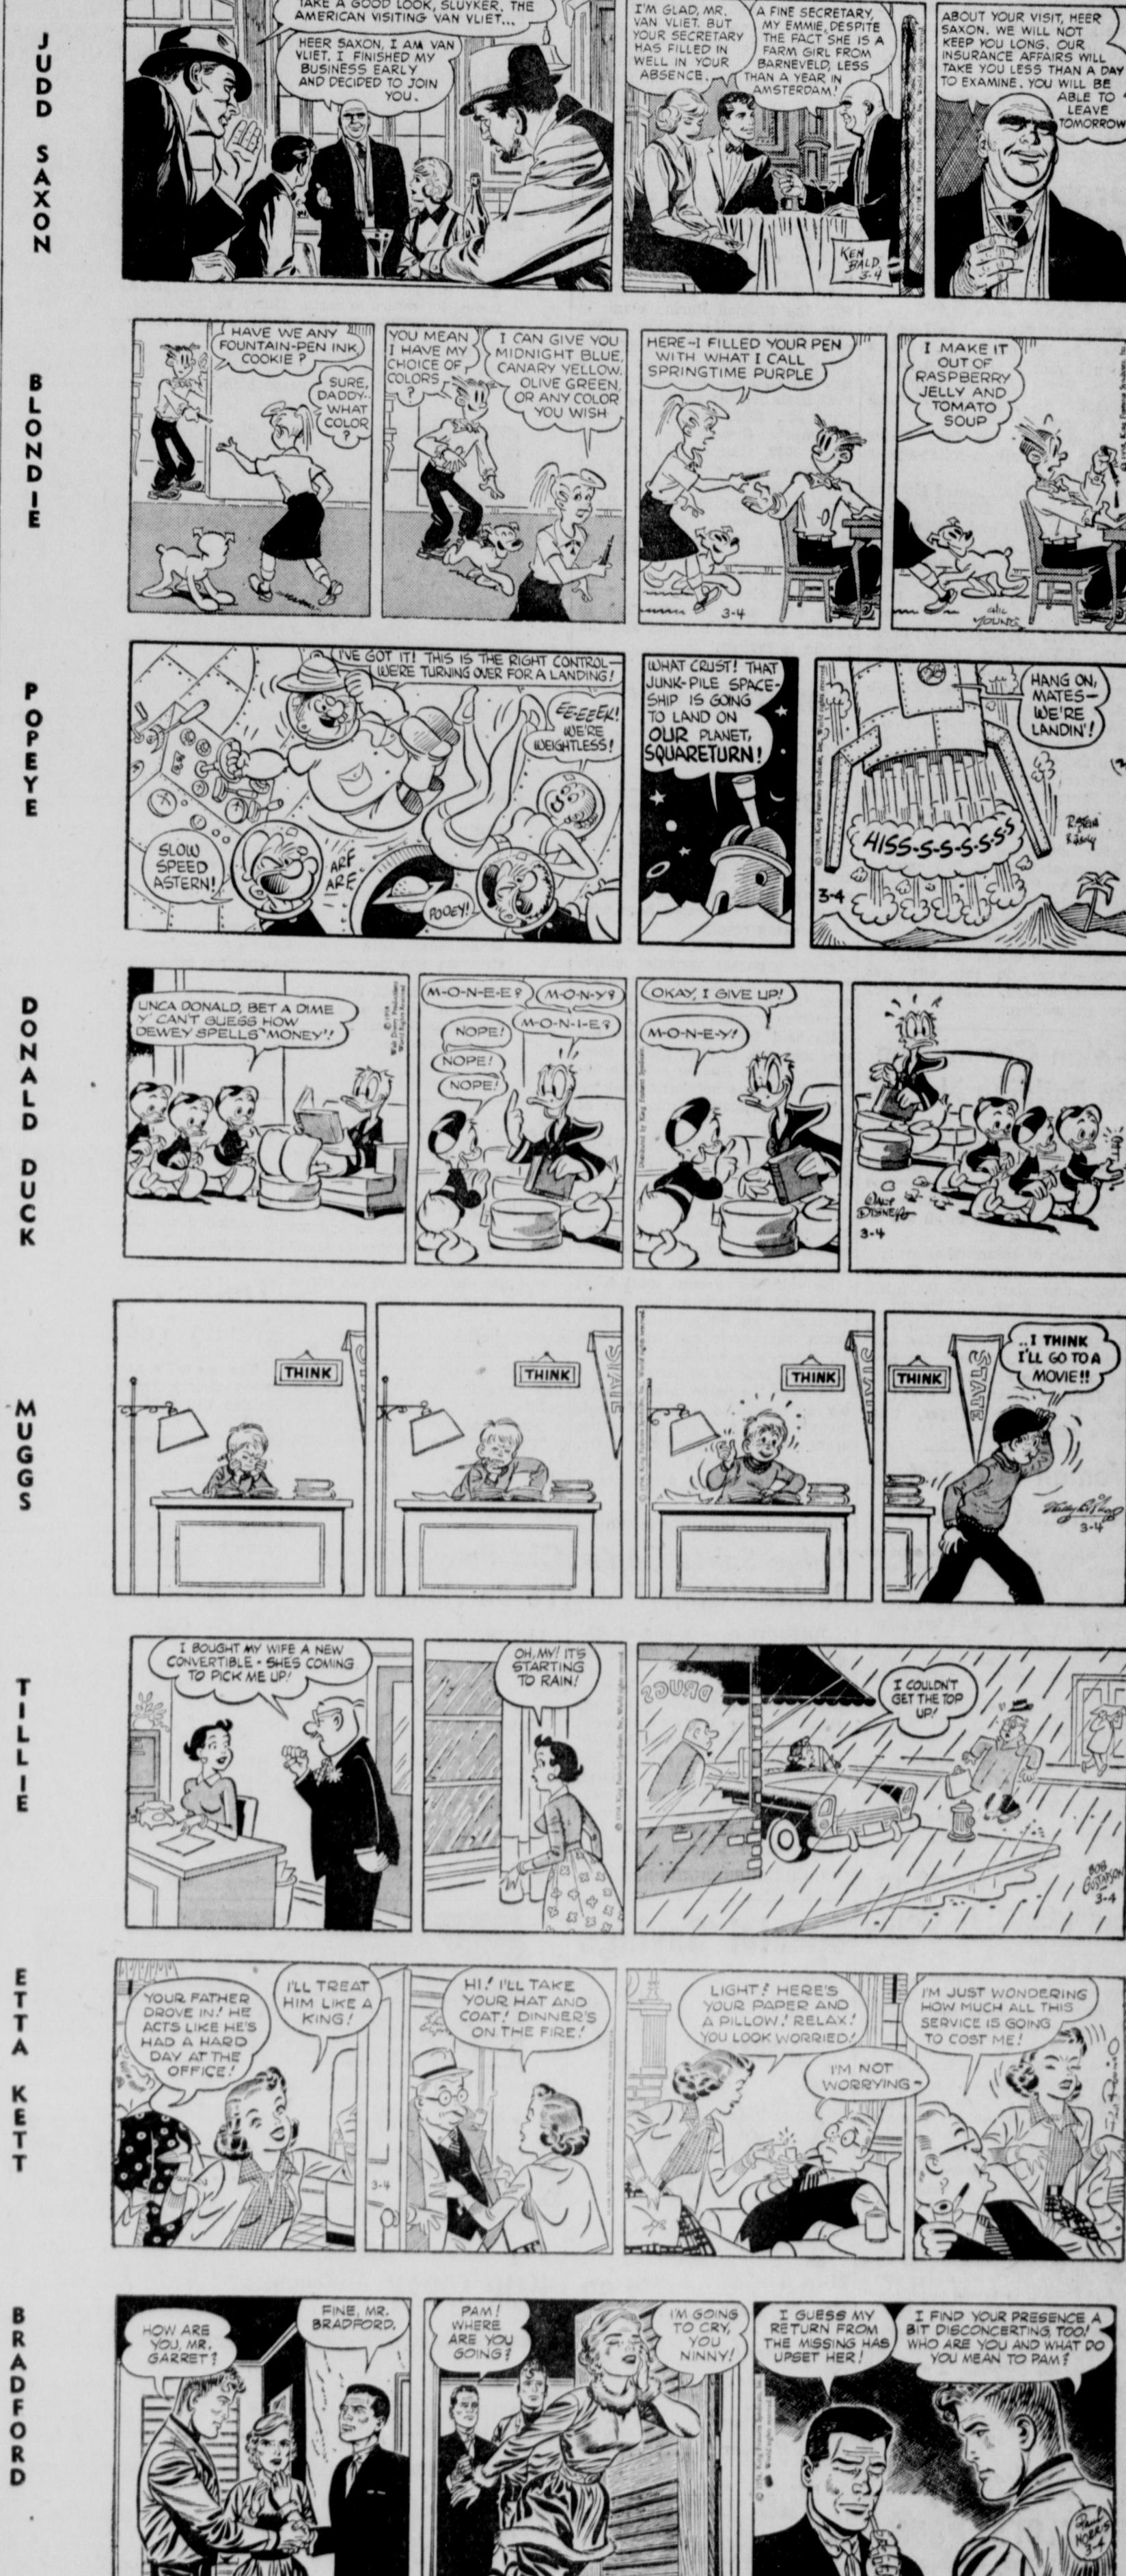

The checking, both the American and Canadian coaches agreed, was just a part of the game, North American style.

The fighting, U.S. coach Cal Marvin of Warroad, Minn., said, resulted from poor officiating by the referees.

Canada, leading the round robin championships with a 3-0 record after crushing Finland 24-0, was idle today while the U.S., Russia and two other unbeaten teams played their third-round game.

1957 Man-of-Year Named Tonight

Tonight the 11th "Man of the Year" will be announced at the Distinguished Service Award banquet to be held in the basement of the First Methodist Church starting at 6:30 p.m.

Columbus Mayor Maynard "Jack" Sensenbrenner will be the guest speaker and will be introduced.

Dressmakers Plan Striking Wednesday

NEW YORK (AP) — The International Ladies Garment Workers Union has ordered 105,000 workers in seven Eastern states to strike the dress industry Wednesday morning.

This would be the first major walkout in the billion-dollar-a-year industry in 25 years.

The strike order, issued Monday night from the ILGWU's Dress Joint Board, followed fruitless efforts by City Labor Commissioner Harold A. Felix to mediate a contract dispute.

The industry's pre-Easter dress production is threatened. However, David Dubinsky, president of the ILGWU, and Julius Hochman, general manager of the joint board, expressed hope that the situation would be brief.

Many manufacturers are counting on the Easter season to hold down their losses in the recession.

Contract negotiations came to a halt Saturday with the union demanding a 15 per cent wage increase, a 35-hour week for piece workers and other improvements.

Representatives of five employer groups offered a 5 per cent package increase.

The present wages in New York average $2.10 an hour.

Affected by the strike would be 57,000 workers in this city and 48,000 elsewhere. About 80 per cent are women.

5-Man Commission On Building Named

COLUMBUS (AP) — Gov. C. William O'Neill has appointed a five-member commission empowered to build a $15 million state office building. The Ohio Legislature created the commission in an act effective last Sept. 13.

Members of commission are: Robert M. Humphreys, 51, an Urbana mortician; John P. Walsh, 49, Canton attorney; Darold I. Greek, 48, Columbus attorney; Les Donnell, 59, Youngstown auto dealer and Jacob Davis, 51, Kroger Co. vice president, Cincinnati. Ex-officio member with voting rights is Richard Larimer, state public works director.

Woman Is Indicted In Infant's Death

URBANA (AP) — The Champaign County grand jury indicted Mrs. Betty Watkins, 33, of nearby Westville, for second degree murder Monday in the death of her infant grandson Feb. 16.

The infant's body was found, wrapped in paper and rags, under a wood pile at Mrs. Watkins' home. The baby's mother was Mrs. Watkins' 16-year-old daughter, authorities said.

Coroner Dr. V. R. Frederick issued a verdict of homicide, contending that the infant was alive at birth and died shortly thereafter from a blow on the head.

Ohio Youth Enters 2nd Month in Coma

UNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — An 18-year-old Chesapeake, Ohio, youth enters his second month in a coma today at Huntington Hospital. It is a result of injuries he received Feb. 4.

Donald Henson was one of three youths injured when their car collided with another automobile on U. S. 52 in Chesapeake. Two persons in the other car were killed.

Henson and Ray Collinsworth, 18, of Chesapeake were both left unconscious and in critical condition. Less seriously injured was Micky Edwards, 22, also of Chesapeake.

Monday, Collinsworth left the hospital. He came out of his coma and is termed in "good condition."

LEFT: The vehicle, 200 feet long, 1,800,000 pounds, 22,000-pound pay load. Bottom stage is a rocket-powered glider, fueled with gasoline and liquid oxygen. Pilot rides in attached capsule which can be jettisoned for emergency escape. After leaving earth's atmosphere, glider is detached for return to earth. Middle section holds nuclear power plant and crew gondola. Upper section is jettisoned when flight is well underway.

RIGHT: How crewmen would switch to nuclear power. Delta-wing booster craft (lower right) has been detached to glide back to earth. Gondola containing crewmen unrolls 1,000-foot tungsten cables to let nuclear power plant soar at safe distance. Power plant runs by remote control.

LEFT: Space liner would "back down" on the moon until gondola touches, then power plant would be landed 1,000 feet away. Microwave radio would be used to communicate with earth. On return, crew would transfer to a re-entry glider at edge of earth's atmosphere.

RIGHT: A cargo drop system would be used to deliver supplies. Here are two supply ships. The one in foreground is approaching, tail first. In background, a ship has made its drop. Supplies are carried in a case at top, protected by pair of dome-shaped tubes. These unmanned vehicles would shuttle between moon and a "warehouse satellite" near earth, never needing the additional structure and instrumentation required for landings and takeoffs.

Many Said Failing To Get Polio Shot

CLEVELAND (AP) — Because of withdrawal of government support for the anti-polio program many persons—young and old—are failing to get their third in the series of Salk vaccine shots, says Dr. Arthur J. Pearce, Cuyahoga County health commissioner.

Dr. Pearce said he fears that the entire polio program might "go down the drain" because the public finds the cost of shots from a private physician is too high.

"I'm looking somewhat fearfully to this summer and fall," said Dr. Pearce Monday. "Without that third shot the effects of the other two wane."

"Unless the patients were terribly malnourished before treatment started, they got none of the usual withdrawal symptoms," Dr. Knox reported. "And they were in good physical shape within seven days."

Old Pony Express To Be Honored

LEXINGTON, Mo. (AP) — Plans are being made to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the pony express service in 1960, says a grandson of one of the founders.

Waddell Smith of San Rafael, Calif., stopped here to visit relatives while working on plans for the centennial. His grandfather, W. D. Waddell, was one of three founders of the pony express.

Smith said plans call for riders to follow the old route from St. Joseph, Mo., to Sacramento, Calif., and San Francisco.

Texas Town Plumb Forget Election Day

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — City officials of Morgan's Point and Lomax forgot that the deadline for filing petitions for the April 1 election was last Saturday.

Mayor E. R. Meeks of Lomax said in all probability his city council would "go ahead and let the people file. If anyone wants to protest, we'll just be in a jam."

Mayor A. M. Polker of Morgan's Point said he would have to see what could be done.

They could hold an election with no names on the ballots.

Morgan's Point has 1,100 residents. The group will hold an open meeting on the first Wednesday of each month to plan and coordinate activities for 1958. Interim meetings of the Executive Council have been held.

What's Wrong with Economy?

Big Manufacturing Centers Are Hurt Most in Slump

Editor's Note: Following is the second in a series of articles surveying economic conditions within America today.

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Take a pencil and a map of America. Draw a line down the West Coast, another under the Great Lakes, and a third down the Atlantic Coast from Maine to the Carolinas.

You have marked off the main trouble spots in America's ailing economy. They cover the country's greatest manufacturing centers, the areas with the heaviest population and thus the most politically important.

The rest of the country is beginning to feel the pinch, but it's not too bad.

Even in the troubled areas, business is still thriving in many respects, gliding along on the momentum of America's fabulously rich and diverse economy.

"Progress is sidewise, not going up or down," said President Lee Miller of the Citizens Fidelity Bank and Trust Co., Louisville, Ky.

It's important to remember our patient—business — is still lusty and active with the greatest potentialities in history.

Measured in income, profits, employment and production he has slipped back only a few notches from record achievements. But he has been accustomed to constant success.

"We were living in a fools paradise thinking business would keep going on up," says Holmes Whittemore, general manager of Jones Lamson Machine Co., at Springfield, Vt.

But will our economic patient get well on the dose of aspirin and rest prescribed by President Eisenhower? Or is he getting worse and needing a stronger remedy?

This is the key problem in

County Clean During 1957

Pickaway was one of two counties in the Columbus District not charged with violating state liquor laws during 1957.

Perry was the only other county in the district with a clean slate.

Franklin County led the district in violations according to the State Department of Liquor Control. Agents made 76 raids and 93 arrests there, resulting in 68 convictions and fines totaling $8,010.

The Columbus District includes Pickaway, Perry, Franklin, Delaware, Fairfield, Fayette, Knox, Licking, Madison, Marion, Morrow, Muskingum and Union Counties.

Kohler Publicist Chided by Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Kohler Co. publicity man, George Galati, acknowledged Monday he hired a cameraman to photograph any member of the Senate Rackets Committee or staff seen talking to a lawyer for the United Auto Workers Union.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), the committee chairman, denounced the arrangement as "pretty low and pretty rotten." He called it a move designed to "get something to smear members of this committee."

Washington and many state capitals, facing mounting demands for stronger emergency pump-priming measures.

A comprehensive survey by The Associated Press reaching down into the grass roots of America shows that people are facing the situation with a hard-headed attitude. They are neither discouraged, nor particularly optimistic.

They see 1958 as a year of trial and trouble, but are remarkably unanimous in confidence that our current economic stumble will somehow straighten out and lead to new high plateaus in 1959 and 1960.

Data collected from coast to coast suggests a buyers market.

Yet the AP survey reflects little disposition to cut prices at this stage. Living costs are staying right at record levels.

Many citizens, especially the army of perhaps five million unemployed, are curbing buying habits, drawing in their horns, getting along on hamburger instead of chops and steak, making the car and topcoat do a while longer.

People still have money to spend, retail sales in January hit 15½ billion dollars, up one per cent from December on a seasonally adjusted basis.

Construction, one of the first industries to feel the recession, is beginning to pick up again.

But the oil industry is hurting. Domestic production built up for export during the Suez crisis is hard-pressed now to find markets.

The Plains states—coming out of a long period of bad times in wheat and cattle from the long drought that was broken last spring—are happy and encouraged.

Despite its troubles, industry still is expanding, even though it can't use all the production capacity created in recent years.

It looks like U.S. capacity to produce has at this moment, at least, outrun the capacity to consume.
